Japanese language courses offered by the Education Center for Japanese Language and Culture

The Education Center for Japanese Language and Culture of the Institute for Liberal Arts and Sciences (ILAS) offers the following two types of Japanese language courses:

(1) Japanese Language Courses in the Liberal Arts and Sciences (ILAS) curriculum

The courses of the ILAS curriculum are credited, and it offers classes for Elementary I/II levels, Intermediate I/II levels, and Advanced level. Each level has the class to develop specific skills such as conversation, listening comprehension, reading, and writing as well as the class to aim overall development for the 4 specific skills.

(2) Japanese Language Support Courses not included in the regular curriculum

Introduction I/II, Intermediate I/II, Advanced, and Business Japanese courses are designed for applicants to learn four skills (conversation, listening comprehension, reading and writing) in one class. These courses are not credited.

Japanese language courses offered by the Education Center for Japanese Language and Culture

International students who have come to study in Kyoto and who are already in a Japanese-language environment probably have a reasonable knowledge of the Japanese language. At Kyoto University, we have many international students from a wide range of backgrounds. The degree to which a student requires Japanese language ability varies: there are cases in which English is sufficient as the primary language used in a department, while in other cases everyday Japanese is necessary, and in some academic fields a high level of Japanese proficiency is called for. There is also a broad range in terms of the level and length of students' prior Japanese study—from those who are absolute beginners to those who have experienced living in Japan and can understand everyday conversation, to those undergraduates who have already studied for a considerable length of time in their home country.

According to our surveys, however, almost all of our international students—whether they be in the humanities/social sciences or science/engineering, in undergraduate or graduate programs, or whether they be regular degree-seeking or non-regular students are aware that Japanese language study is essential and aim to improve their own working knowledge of Japanese. However, the various limitations that arise from being in an environment where you cannot use your native language can at times make it difficult to convey your intentions or gain access to needed information, and this can easily lead to anxiety and stress. In order to ensure that you can concentrate on your studies and research activities while in school, it is vital that you first take an objective look at where your own strengths and weaknesses lie in terms of your Japanese language skills and then select the courses that will let you steadily improve.

The Education Center for Japanese Language and Culture of the Institute for Liberal Arts and Sciences (ILAS) of Kyoto University offers for our international students the following two types of Japanese language courses: (1) Japanese language courses in the Liberal Arts and Sciences curriculum, and (2) Japanese language support courses not included in the regular curriculum.

FAQ about the registration for Japanese courses in the ILAS Curriculum

Q1.　I have extended my enrollment date to May. Can I apply for the Japanese language courses?

A1.　No, you cannot apply for the Japanese language courses unless you are enrolled at Kyoto University as of April 1st, 2026.

Q2.　I am a research student. Am I eligible to take ILAS Japanese language courses?

A2.　Yes, you are. However, you must obtain permission from your supervisor and apply for auditing ILAS Japanese language courses through your graduate school or faculty's administration office before you begin registration STEP1 (see page 2).

Q3.　I could not complete the registration STEP1 by March 6th. Can I still take Japanese language courses?

A3.　There is a final round period from March 13th 9:00 until March 25th 13:00. Those who were unable to complete the registration STEP1 by March 6th may also register for the course during this period.

◆How to obtain the latest ID and password for final round STEP1;
・Current students
Download the "Guide to Registration for Japanese Language Courses (2026 First Semester)" from the KULASIS Information site after March 13th.
・New regular students
Download the "Guide to Registration for Japanese Language Courses (2026 First Semester)" from the New student registration website>Information after March 13th.
・New non-regular students
Contact us, "Japanese-language Education Section", via Form;
(https://forms.gle/MiGhzHMrftKugxFJA).

If you register for the registration STEP1 after March 13th, the following procedures will be scheduled as follows:
　　・Placement test→March 26th 13:00 to March 27th 17:00
　　・Course Registration STEP2→ April 1st 9:00 to April 3rd 13:00
　　・Online Advisory Session→ April 15th or 16th session is available
　　※ Given the compressed timeline, please complete the registration STEP1 by March 6th as originally scheduled.

Q4. Can I still take the Japanese courses in the ILAS Curriculum even if my enrollment period at Kyoto University is less than one semester?

A4. Enrollment is limited to students who are able to attend all 15 sessions of the course, including the feedback period. Therefore, if your enrollment period is shorter than that duration, you will not be able to take the course.

Q5. I registered my personal email address in STEP1. But I didn't receive an email "Welcome to PandA". What should I do?

A5. Firstly, please check the junk and promotion mailbox in your email account. If you don't find it anywhere, please contact us immediately via Form, (https://forms.gle/MiGhzHMrftKugxFJA). On the other hand, if you have ever activated a PandA account with the same email address (as login ID) at the previous placement test, you will not receive the welcome message this time. In this case, please log in to PandA with the same password that was used to activate your account at the last time.
(Please refer to the "Placement Test Guide" which is sent to you prior to the Placement test.)

Q6. I log in to PandA with my ECS-ID since I am a current student, but I cannot find the placement test in my PandA account.

A6. This is because you did not register with the <st.kyoto-u.ac.jp> address in STEP1. In this case, there is no placement test in your PandA. Please log in to PandA with your registered email address and password when you activated your account.

Q7. I would like to know the content and the instructors of each course before STEP2 registration begins.

A7. Please search the syllabus for each course from the below.
https://www.z.k.kyoto-u.ac.jp/zenkyo/syllabus

Q8. In STEP2, I was going to sign up for multiple courses. But the application was closed right after I signed up for one course. How can I register for additional courses?

A8. Your application has been closed because you completed STEP2 by clicking "Submit to registration" instead of "continue to registration". In this case, please contact https://forms.gle/MiGhzHMrftKugxFJA to cancel the completion. You will then be able to register for additional courses. Please click "Submit to registration" after selecting all the courses you would like to register for.

FAQ about the registration for Japanese support courses

Q1. I have extended my enrollment/hire date to May. Can I apply for the Japanese support courses?

A1. No, you cannot apply for the Japanese language courses unless you are enrolled/employed in Kyoto University as of April 1st, 2026.

Q2. I could not complete the registration STEP1 by March 6th. Can I still take Japanese language courses?

A2. There is a final round from March 13th 9:00 until March 25th 13:00. Those who were unable to complete the registration STEP1 by March 6th can register for the course during this period.

◆ How to obtain the latest ID and password for the final round STEP1;

·Current students:
Download the "Guide to Registration for Japanese Language Courses (2026 First Semester)" from the KULASIS Information site after March 13th.

·New regular students:
Download the "Guide to Registration for Japanese Language Courses" from the New student registration website>Information after March 13th.

·Researchers and new non-regular students:
Contact Japanese Education Section via inquiry form, https://forms.gle/MiGhzHMrftKugxFJA.

If you register for the registration STEP1 after March 13th, the following procedures will be scheduled as follows:
·Placement test→ March 26th 13:00 to March 27th 17:00
·Course Registration STEP2→ April 1st 9:00 to April 3rd 13:00
※Given the compressed timeline, please complete the registration STEP1 by March 6th as originally scheduled.

Q3. I registered my personal email address in STEP1, but I didn't receive an email "Welcome to PandA". What should I do?

A3. Firstly, please check the junk and promotion mailbox in your email account. If you don't find it anywhere, please contact us via inquiry form, https://forms.gle/MiGhzHMrftKugxFJA immediately.
On the other hand, if you have ever activated a PandA account with the same email address (as login ID) at the previous placement test, you will not receive the welcome message this time. In this case, please log in to PandA with the same password that was used to activate your account at the last time.(Pleas refer to the "Placement Test Guide" which was sent to you prior to the placement test.)

FAQ about the registration for Japanese support courses

Q4. I log in to PandA with my ECS-ID since I am a current student. But I cannot find the placement test on my PandA account.

A4. This is because you did not register with the <st.kyoto-u.ac.jp> address in STEP1. In this case, there is no placement test in your PandA. Please log in to PandA with your registered email address and password when you activated your account.

Q5. I would like to know the contents and the instructors of the support courses.

A5. Please search the syllabus of the support courses from the link below.
https://www.z.k.kyoto-u.ac.jp/download/japanese-language/6.pdf

Q6. I want to apply for the course that has already been oversubscribed. Can I be placed on a waiting list?

A6. There is NO waiting list for the cancellations. Please check the Google Form which will be notified by an email about the registration adjustment period to verify class registration status. If space is available, registration will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis during the registration adjustment period.

Q7. Is it possible to audit the un-registered courses?

A7. No. Please make sure that you register all courses you would like to take.

Q8. When does the class start?

A8. Please refer to the Page 25.

Q9. Can I still take the Japanese language support courses not included in the regular curriculum even if my enrollment period at Kyoto University is less than one semester?

A9. Enrollment is limited to students who are able to attend all 16 sessions of the course, including the feedback period. Therefore, if your enrollment period is shorter than that duration, you will not be able to take the course.
